APC Fund FAQ

What charges does the fund cover?

Article processing charges or publishing fees. The fund does not cover submission fees or personal or institutional subscriptions or sponsorships.

What content types are eligible?

Articles accepted for publication in peer-reviewed open access journals. Articles cannot be still under review; they must be accepted.

Which journals are eligible for this fund?

The eligible journals meet each of the following criteria:

- Journal is a gold OA indexed in the Directory of Open Access Journals
- The journal impact factor is in the top 10% based on the Journal Impact Factor Percentile in Incites (for 2017/2018)
- Journal requires an APC (based on either the DOAJ or the publisher’s website i.e. if the DOAJ says there’s no APC but the publisher’s website says it has an APC, the journal was included, and vice-versa)

‘Platinum OA’ journals (fully-open journals that don’t charge an APC) were not included.

Are there any funds access restrictions?

The fund cannot be used to support "hybrid" open access publishing, or to cover publishing fees where an embargo is required. The hybrid model is used to make individual articles available in journals in addition to paid subscriptions to access the remainder of articles.

Who is eligible?

Faculty members, Research Fellows, Adjuncts, Honorary and HDR (Higher Degree by Research) students who are the first or corresponding author of an article accepted for publication in the eligible journal list. The author must have by-lined the University of Western Australia on the article.

With what requirements must subsidized authors comply?

Authors must attach digital copy of their accepted manuscript (PDF) together with the invoice issued to the University Library APC Fund Manager in their online fund application and declare that they have no other funds available to them to cover the APC cost. The library will preserve and make these works available in an institutional digital repository.
How are intramural collaborations handled?
Only the first or corresponding author can access the UWA APC funds for up to 3500 (AUD) per article.

Are there restrictions for repeat usage?
The fund will provide up to 3500 (AUD) per UWA researcher per calendar year. Researchers can apply to access the fund once each calendar year.

What if the APC cost exceeds 3500 (AUD)?
If the APC cost exceed 3500 (AUD), the APC fund applicant must obtain two separate invoices, one for the University Library (for up to 3500 AUD or the equivalent in foreign currency), and a separate invoice for the entity paying the outstanding balance.

Fund Size
The fund has a maximum which may be adjusted at the discretion of the University Library. Funding for articles that comply with the eligibility criteria will be distributed on a first-come, first-served basis until the funds are spent. The current amount in the APC fund will expire at the end of 2020.

Who is currently funding the UWA APC Fund?
The fund is supported by the University Library.

Who will administer the fund?
The fund is administered by the Library Fund Manager within the Research Publication and Data Services Unit.
Request access to the APC Fund by completing an online application form with your accepted manuscript and the invoice to help-repository@uwa.edu.au
